Hair Talk with JoJo the hair care expert

Q. JoJo, I'm a wig wearer, and I like the versatility and style memory of synthetic wigs. I change my style and color often, depending on how I'm feeling and what I'm wearing. How long should synthetic wigs last, and can they be washed and curled with flat irons?

A. Synthetic wigs are a great choice for a lady on the move who loves change and versatility. I love the way you described changing your girlfriends' color and styles according to your mood and outfits. That's a great idea.

Q. I'm 55 years old, and my hair is thin and getting thinner. I'm considering getting a weave. What would you recommend?

A. In most cases the braiding and gluing techniques will leave your hair thinner, when the weave is removed. Wigs might be a better option.

Q. My scalp and hair are extremely dry. What would you suggest?

A. Being inside so much this time of year can be drying on our hair and scalp. Rosemary Carbon shampoo and conditioner is an excellent choice for rejuvenating the dryness. Design Essential Herbal complex will give your scalp some daily relief. Stop by Terry's Place Wigs and Lashes and let us guide you on your hair care journey.

CPSC warns consumers to immediately stop using Crasts Hair Dryer Brushes due to shock and electrocution hazards; risk of serious injury or death PRNewswire/ -- The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) is warning consumers to immediately stop using Crasts 5-in-1 High Power Multi-Functional Curler and Straightener hair dryer brushes. The hair dryers, which lack an integrated immersion protection device, can cause death or serious injury due to electrocution and shock hazards. The hair dryers are in violation of the federal regulations for hair dryers and present a substantial product hazard.

The hair dryer bushes have been sold online via ecommerce platforms, including us.shein.com from July 2024 through October 2024 for between $6 and $455. Crasts is printed on the hair dryer handle and on the packaging. The model number MD-11 is printed on the product's packaging. The hair dryers were sold in a navy blue color with brass accents and are advertised for drying, straightening and curling hair for family and salon use.

CPSC notified the seller, Guangzhou Crasts Hair Equipments Co. Ltd., of China, that the hair dryer brushes do not meet U.S. safety requirements, but the firm has not responded to requests for a recall.

CPSC urges consumers to immediately stop using the hair dryers, and destroy them by unplugging, cutting the cord, and safely disposing in the garbage.

Report any incidents involving injury or product defect to CPSC at www.SaferProducts.gov.

The product was made in China. Individual Commissioners may have statements related to this topic. Please visit www.cpsc.gov/commissioners to search for statements related to this or other topics.
